DRUCGISTS.

ROSADALIS

I take pleasurs in recommendation. Rosabata as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary applilla, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of scrolla of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the scrollar of long sasteries, and the dications are that the patient will soon cover. I have carefully examined the mula by which your Rosadalis is made, d find it an excellent compound of strative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cuses of Scroftula and Secondary Syphilis with satifactory results—as a cleanor of the Blood I know no better remedy. Hosadalis is sold by all druggists. Laboratory, 61 Exchange, Place, Balti more. DR. CLEMENTH & CO., Proprietors.

The Projected Rail Road to the

GENTLEMEN: Having seen several ar-

this point.

Permit me, therefore, to add a few thoughts touching the importance, to Wheeling of this road.

It is evident that Wheeling is losing her market in Northeastern Ohio for the It is evident that Wheeling is losing her market in Northeastern Ohio for the sale of her manufactures and merchandise. In proof of this I will ask your business men to hunt up their old ledgers and look at the accounts of customers doing business at Cadiz, Deersville, New Market, Leesburg, Urichaville, New Pfffladelphia, Canal Dover, &c., and then compare sales made to those customers, now with former years. I think they will find their sales greatly reduced.

I now propose to show the reasons why this trade has been lost to them and where it has gone. has gone. Since the Pan Handle Road has been in operation the distance to Pittsburgh, (by rail,) from the places named above, has been materially shortened, thereby reducbeen materially shortened, thereby requesing freights as well as saving time in transporting, so that, in this particular, Pittsburgh has been the gainer and Wheeling the property of the particular of the particular of the property of th

ent railroad accommodations, has lost and now is losing her trade beyond recovery let me cite your business men to everyday occurrences like the following. Mr. Brown, of Urichsville, wants, say, some brown, of Ortesvine, wands, say, some hardware, and, to be sure of getting it speedily and surely, writes on Monday, two orders; one he sends to Snooks, of Pittsburg and the other, to Smith of Wheeling. Both orders start at the same time and arrive at Steubenville together, and, if Smith's order don't remain there till next here, Snooks is boxing Brown's goods to there, shooks is boxing brown's goods to go off on Tuesday, which day, or next morning at farthest, Brown gets them. Smith gets his order at noon on Tuesday, boxes Brown's goods and sends them to Bridgeport, whence, on Wednesday, they to Steubenville, there to be drayed a nile from the C. & P. to the P. C. & St. mile from the C. & F. to the F. C. & St. L. R. R. depot; where they hay until Thursday, whence they are sent to Brown, who thus gets his Wheeling goods in from thirty to forty-eight hours later than his Pittsburgh goods, ordered at the same time. Nor is this all; his Pittsburgh goods arrived in the same car they left that city n, whilst his Wheeling goods passed over two roads at extra expense to him,—beides drayage at Steubenville, and damage handling and foul weather,—and he ads that it won't pay him to patronize ng business through the country, I think hey should be looked up and their cus-om regained. How can this be done by the business men of Wheeling? Build the contemplated road, via Athens to Uhrichsville, and have orders reach you Uhrichsville, and have orders reach you (by mail) before they can reach Pittsburgh; and, as the distance is shorter, deliver your goods sooner than Pittsburgh or Steubenville can, and at less expense. On reaching Uhricsville they can take the P. C. & St. Louis road, and reach the places I have named on that road at no more cost for freight than from Pittsburgh, and some places much less.

As Cadiz men find it cheaper to haul groups from Wheeling than to get them by asked. 'Yes,' the poet kindly answered, and was shown in to the master of the house. 'Is this shouse Washington's headquarters?' he gasked. 'Yes,' the poet kindly answered, and was shown in to the master of the house. 'Is this shouse Washington's headquarters?' he ng only a few miles to haul, can be supning only a few fines to man, can be sup-plied from Wheeling sooner, and at less expense than they can be otherwise. Beautified Deersville, also, being contiguous, would then most surely patronize Wheeling. So with New Philadelphia, Canal Dover, oses of Wheeling.

I will leave it for others to show advan-I will leave it for differs to show advantages to be gained by having a road traverse so fertile a section before reaching the ore fields of Tuscaruwas and Stark counties, &c., hoping the day is not far when the lakes will be made to kiss the terest and prosperity.

seven hundred miles; die the same manner. The precipitates austance may be readily separated from the water by filtration, whereas the filtration of the water containing the suspended matter is very difficult, because the pores of the filters are choked. The practical importance of this matter is very great, since it is, for instance, a well-known fact that the waters of some rivers (the Dur-ance being notorious in this respect) does not, in winter time, and after heavy rainfall or snow storms, become quite clear, even if left at rest in large ponds for a considerable time.

The same is the case with the water of the Rhine, which, in its lower course, is often quite turbid for weeks together, Thousands have been cured by these simpler of the course, is an experience of the course, is the course of the course vided clay being kept suspended, even after the water has been at rest in a tank. after the water has been at rest in a tank. The water of the river Durance supplies Marseilles with fresh water, the latter being brought to that city by a magnificent series of works, among which is the celebrated Aqueduc de Roquefavor. The use of chloride of calcium is, however good, not indispensable; and our readers may be reminded here that the late Professor Johnson, of Durham university, has very ably and fully explained the clearing of muddy, and thereby non-potable, water in his work, "Chemistry of Common Eife," wherein he has also made reference to the use of certain bitter vegetable substances which have been applied table substances which have been applied both in Egypt and India, for the purpose of rendering the waters of the Nile, Ganges, Indus and other large rivers pot-able many centuries before the rationle of the action of these substance was understood. - Chemical News.

Arlington and the Lees.

From the Washington Star.

As the exact relationship of the Lea family to the Arlington property was not clearly stated in the debate yesterday, we may say that it never belonged to Gen. Lee. At the death of George W. P. Cur-tis, a life interest in it was bequeathed to Mrs. Lee, his daughter, and at her death sis, a life interest in it was bequeathed to Mrs. Loe, his daughter, and at her death it was to go to his grandsons, Custis and Fitzhugh Lee. The taxes upon the property having accumulated during the rebellion it was sold therefor, and purchased by the government; thus it will be seen it is held by virtue of a tax title. Subsequently efforts were made to redeem it by paying the amount of taxes, but they were unsuecessful, and the title is still vested in the government by virtue of the tax sale aligned to.

Alexander Narjores is the only man conversant with the plains I have ever known who did not castigating mulish quadrupeds. The plainsman, in most instances, is a gentle-man. Strip him of his buckskins and place upon him a jaunty cap, and nobby cost, and choker collar, and he would pass for a New York dandy. He is at home wherever he is. He would be at ease as much at a reception of Grant or Sherman as in the rude tent of Satanta or Satank. Years ago he had the advantages of a good on school education. common school editeation. He commit-ted some "youthful indiscretion," cropped the tail of some old farmer's horse a little too short, or accidentally "pushed" a companion too vigorously in a saloon broil, and has fled to the prairies to allow his wild oats to germanate in a kindly and retentive soil. Once having summer-ed and wintered here, he never returns. He is both married and not married. He has no wite; but he has one or more squaws among a half dozen or more wild tribes. He firmly believes that the savage tribes can only be improved and civilized through the medium of amalgamation; and he finds corroboration and confirma-tion of his theory in the history of the semi-civilized tribes of the Indian Terri-

As Cadiz men find it cheaper to haul goods from Wheeling than to get them by rail, they still to some extent patronize Wheeling; but, as their trade don't annount to "forty wagons a day," nevertheless, it is very considerable when concetrated. Let this road be built, and Cadiz, by having only a few miles to haul, can be supthe chambers, up stairs and down, very courteously by the poet himself, and his appetite for historical associations was gratified, when, finally, he turned to Mr Longfellow and expreand thanks, was interested sufficiently in the polite host to ask, simply, 'What is your name?' 'My name is Longfellow.' 'Long—fellow—Longfellow?' Well, now, I did hear of a man of that name down in with New Philadephin, Calabarand many other places.

Thus it will be found that Pittsburgh and Steubenville "runners" will not so readily carry off orders from under the Bill-rick-ey (Bilerica). Are you any kin to him?"
